If you enable this setting, non-LINE users will be redirected to a web browser when they access the LIFF URL, allowing them to use the service of the LINE MINI App without installing the LINE App. Before enabling this setting, check the following:

- This setting only works for non-LINE users outside of Japan, Thailand, and Taiwan. The county/region is determined by the web browser's language setting.
- Before enabling the setting, check that the service works correctly when a user accesses the endpoint URL in a web browser. For more information, see What to check before enabling the setting ⌕ .
- This setting is provided for use cases where the LINE MINI App and a web browser are used together for services such as mobile ordering at restaurants.

Review request

LINE MINI App verification status   Your LINE MINI App is unverified.

If you want to publish your LINE MINI app as a verified MINI App, you need to request a verification review from LY Corporation.
Once the verification review is approved and the status changes to "Reflected", your LINE MINI App will be changed to a verified MINI App, and all settings will be reflected to the published channel.

If you update the settings in the channel after your LINE MINI App has been verified, some fields will need to be re-verified. For more information, see here ⬈ .

Note: If any fields that require a verification review by LY Corporation are modified, the modified fields will be reflected in the published channel when the status changes to "Reflected" after the verification review is approved.
